High-Frequency word book

Introduce the Words

3–5 minutes

Say: We use some words a lot when we read and write. We call these words high-frequency words. Today you are going to learn three new high-frequency words: his, her, and come. We will also review words you have learned in other lessons.

Hold up each flash card one at a time and tell the child the word. Then mix up the cards and ask the child to read each word without your help.

Use each new word one at a time in an oral sentence: His bike is blue. Her bike is green. They can come to my house. Ask the child to clap when he/she hears a high-frequency word. After you say each sentence, ask the child to think of an oral sentence with the high-frequency word.

Add the rest of the high-frequency words to the stack. Flash the cards several times and have the child say the words as quickly as he/she can.

Practice Writing the Words

5–10 minutes

Guide the child as he/she practices writing the new words on the practice sheet and using them in sentences.

Read the High-Frequency Word Book

5–10 minutes

Give the book to the child: Ask: What is the title of the book? What is on the cover? What do you think the book will be about?

Turn to the title page. Ask: What does the girl want to come to her on this page? Do you have a better idea of what the book is about?

Ask the child to turn to the next page. Say: Let's read the words together. Ask the child to point to each word as the two of you read together. Guide the child's finger if he/she has trouble pointing to the right words. Point out that a picture names the last word.

Finally, ask the child to read the words by himself/herself as he/she points to each word.

Repeat this procedure with each page. After the last page, say: You did very well. Now I want you to read the whole book to me.

Play the High-Frequency Word Game

5–10 minutes

Read each word with the child. Then place the words face down in a stack. Have the child turn over a card and read the word. If the word is read correctly, the child places the card at the bottom of the stack and moves the number of spaces indicated on the card. If the child reads the word incorrectly, he/she cannot move on the game board. It is then your turn to draw a card.

Home Connection

Encourage the child to take the book home to read to a parent or sibling. Emphasize the importance of practice. You can also suggest the child look through newspapers or magazines at home and highlight the high-frequency words learned in the lesson.
